

St. Mary's University Education Department

Reciprocity Policy

The courses offered by the Education Department are designed to lead to teacher certification in Texas. These courses may partially fulfill the certification requirements in other states.